10. Justification (Description of Positive Behavior)

Inmate Egipciaco, Daniel Reg. No. 57385-054, arrived to FCI Fort Dix in July 2013. Inmate Egipciaco has a positive attitude. He was a facilitator for the Young Men Incorporated Program, where he mentored to other inmates. He has maintained steady employment as 5811 housing unit orderly since April 2015 ensuring the highest level of sanitation is maintained at all times. He is always professional and appropriate when communicating with staff and inmates. His work ethic and his ability to communicate with staff makes him a positive role model for newly incarcerated inmates.

In accordance with Community Economic Development (CED) Human Resource Policies and Procedures, this report is a yearly performance evaluation of Daniel Egipcianos' duties and responsibilities as President of Young Men Incorporated (YMI).

Introduction

Ryan C. Mack
President
&
Manyell Akinfe
Vice President
Optimum Capital
Management, LLC

In April, 2007 Daniel Egipciano became a member of Young Men Incorporated, Leadership Training Academy. In July 2007 he became one of YMI top recruiters and by December 2007 he was appointed to serve as Communication Director of YMI. In June 2008 he assumed the position of Vice President of YMI. In January 2009 he was appointed President of Young Men Inc. As President, Daniel has demonstrated an excellent ability to work well with board members, facilitators and Otisville correctional staff. He has developed strong communication skills. His presentations are clear and timely. He has chaired and attended all of the YMI board meetings.

Milestones and Accomplishments

Daniel's biggest contribution has been in the capacity as President of Young Men Inc. He has created and facilitated the Music Initiatives program which is a three phase curriculum that focus on various business aspects of the music industry. Mr. Egipciano was selected to participate in the CED Corporate Management Training program (CMT).

An inmate has to distinguish himself, that he is committed to public safety reform and that he is on the road to redemption. Daniel has completed 150 hours of this advance training.

In addition, as President of YMI Mr. Egipciaco has devoted in excess of 40 hours weekly managing and directing many aspects of YMI operations;

- * From writing the syllabus
- * Recruiting participants
- * Facilitating programs
- * Interacting with and evaluating YMI members
- * Maintaining statistics and records
- * His oversight has been a critical component of the success of YMI, a program that has graduated over 200 participants in the past eighteen months

One of Daniels' greatest skills is his ability to speak from the heart. He teaches young inmates to look within themselves to understand the choices they have made which resulted in their incarceration. With passion he motivates participants to change their outlooks on programming while incarcerated so they can better themselves and become valued members of their communities upon release. He has been so effective that most of YMI graduates continue onto to a higher achievements.

Leadership

Mr. Egipciaco has demonstrated that he is an organized, authoritative, and confident inmate, executive during critical periods. He has developed the ability to assess a situation and provide effective solutions.

Mr. Egipciaco has lead a successful campaign to stop young men from wearing sagging pants. Now all of YMI participants literally pull their pants up. Mr. Egipciaco leadership is directly responsible for the current success of YMI. He and his staff are continuously providing leadership in stopping gang violence, not having babies out of wedlock, having protected sex, and that its cool to be educated.
